Spotty the ladybird
One day a little ladybird woke up. Her name was Spotty. One day she decided to go for a walk. Soon her legs got tired so she decided to fly for a little while. In a little while she got tired then she saw a pile of dead grass. She landed on it and had a little nap. In a while she woke up again and then she looked around. She was lost ‘Help!’ cried Spotty. A little girl was walking along she saw Spotty “you’re so cute” said the little girl. “I’m going to keep you” and they lived happily ever after.